NAUTILUS STAFF ASSIGNMENTS

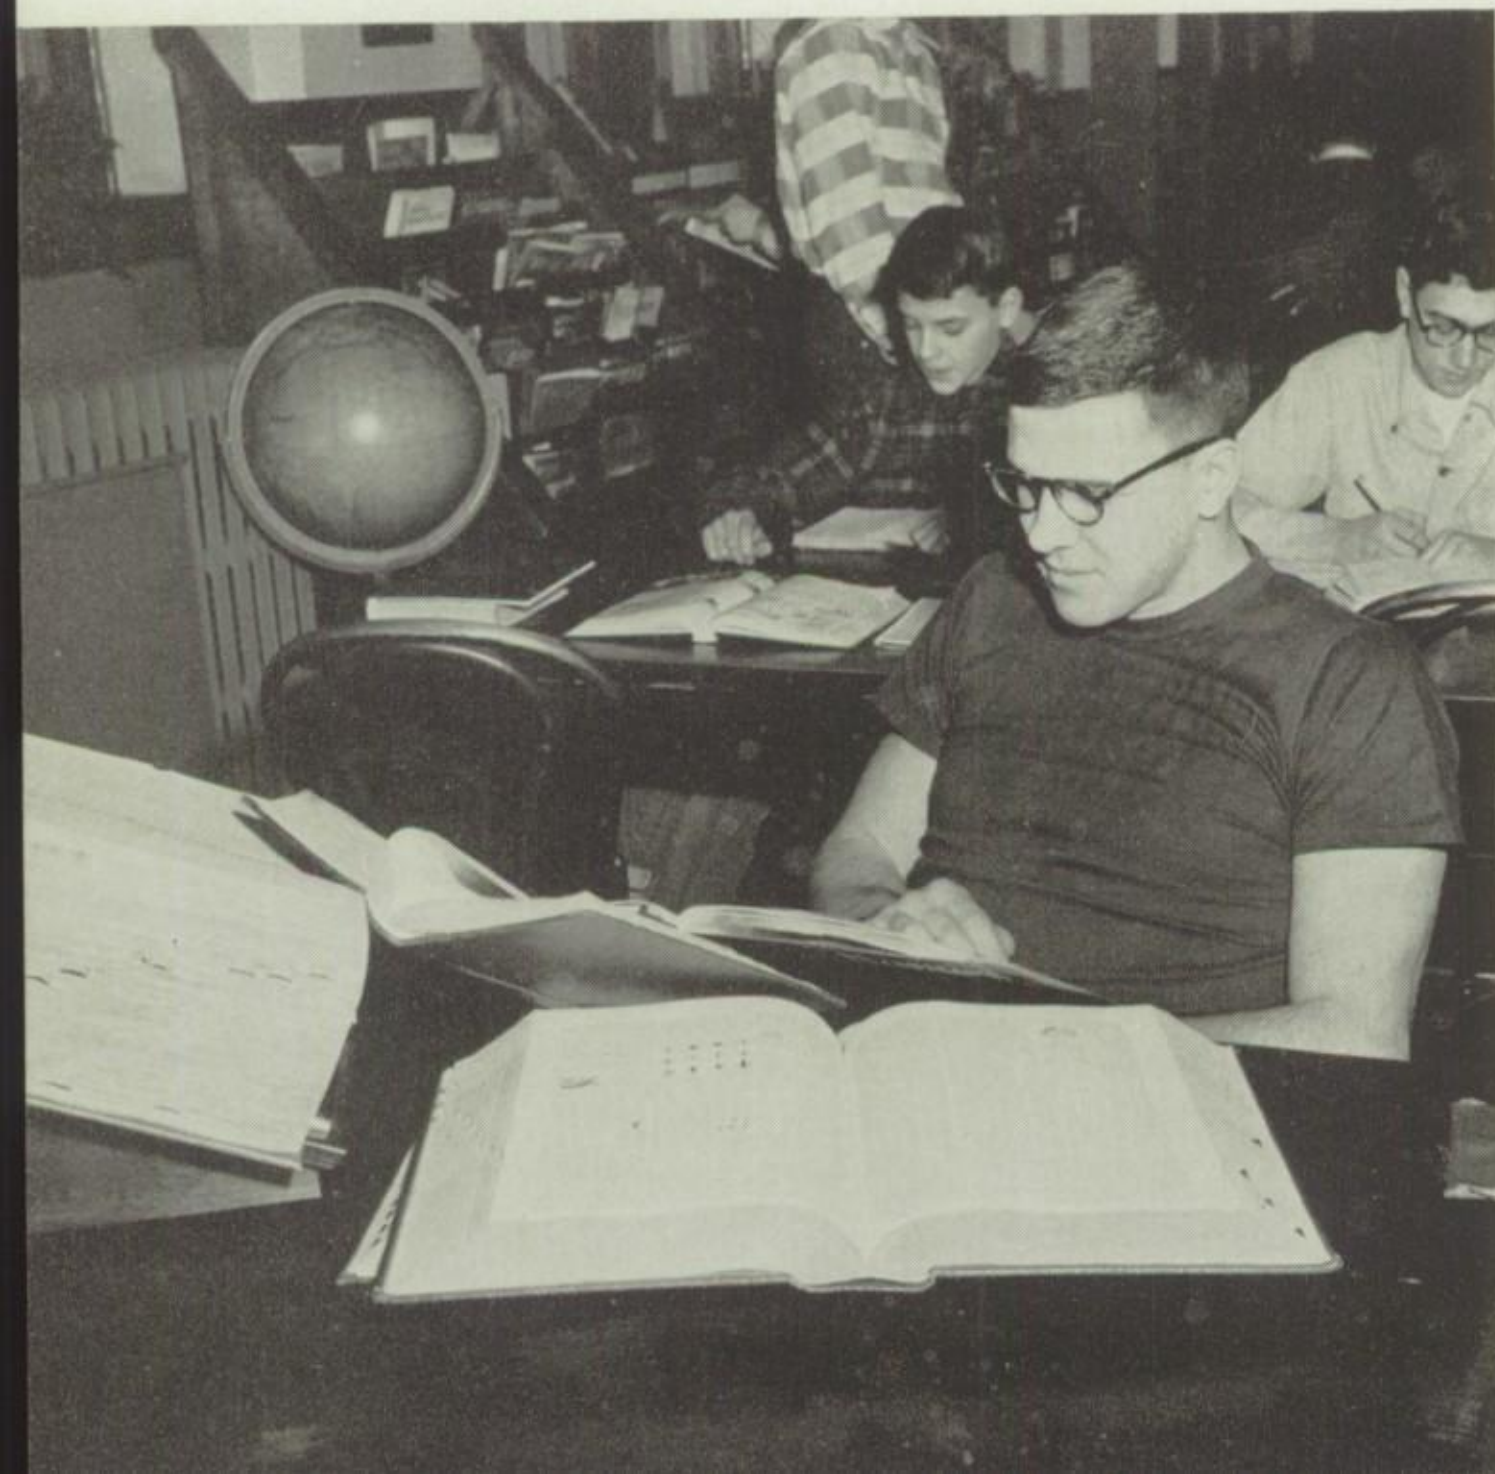

INTRODUCTION

One day last fall, while the Nautilus staff was busily at work planning this book for you, a nosy little character wandered into our school. How he discovered the Nautilus room is still a mystery, but when he put his head to the keyhole, he saw and heard many interesting things. He became so excited that he decided to investigate these affairs himself. He sneaked through our halls, and from his keyhole position, he saw the people at Jeff

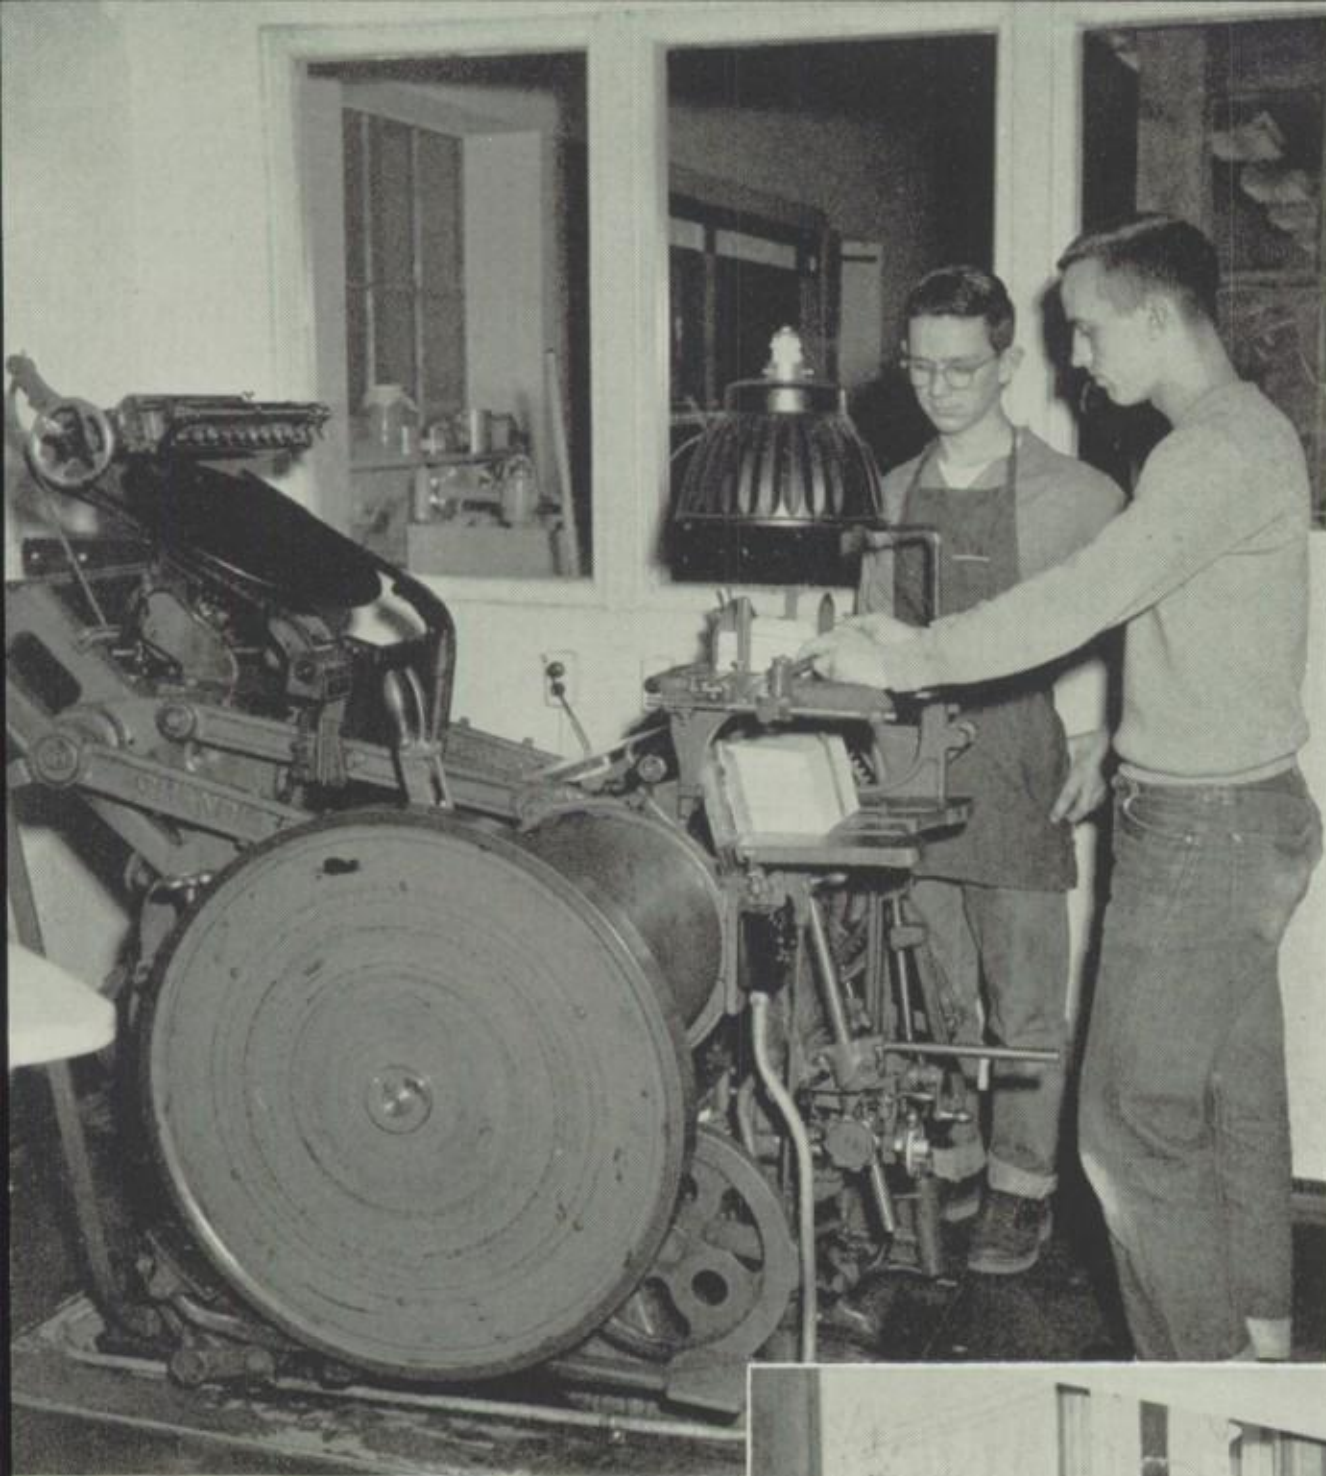

AT WORK

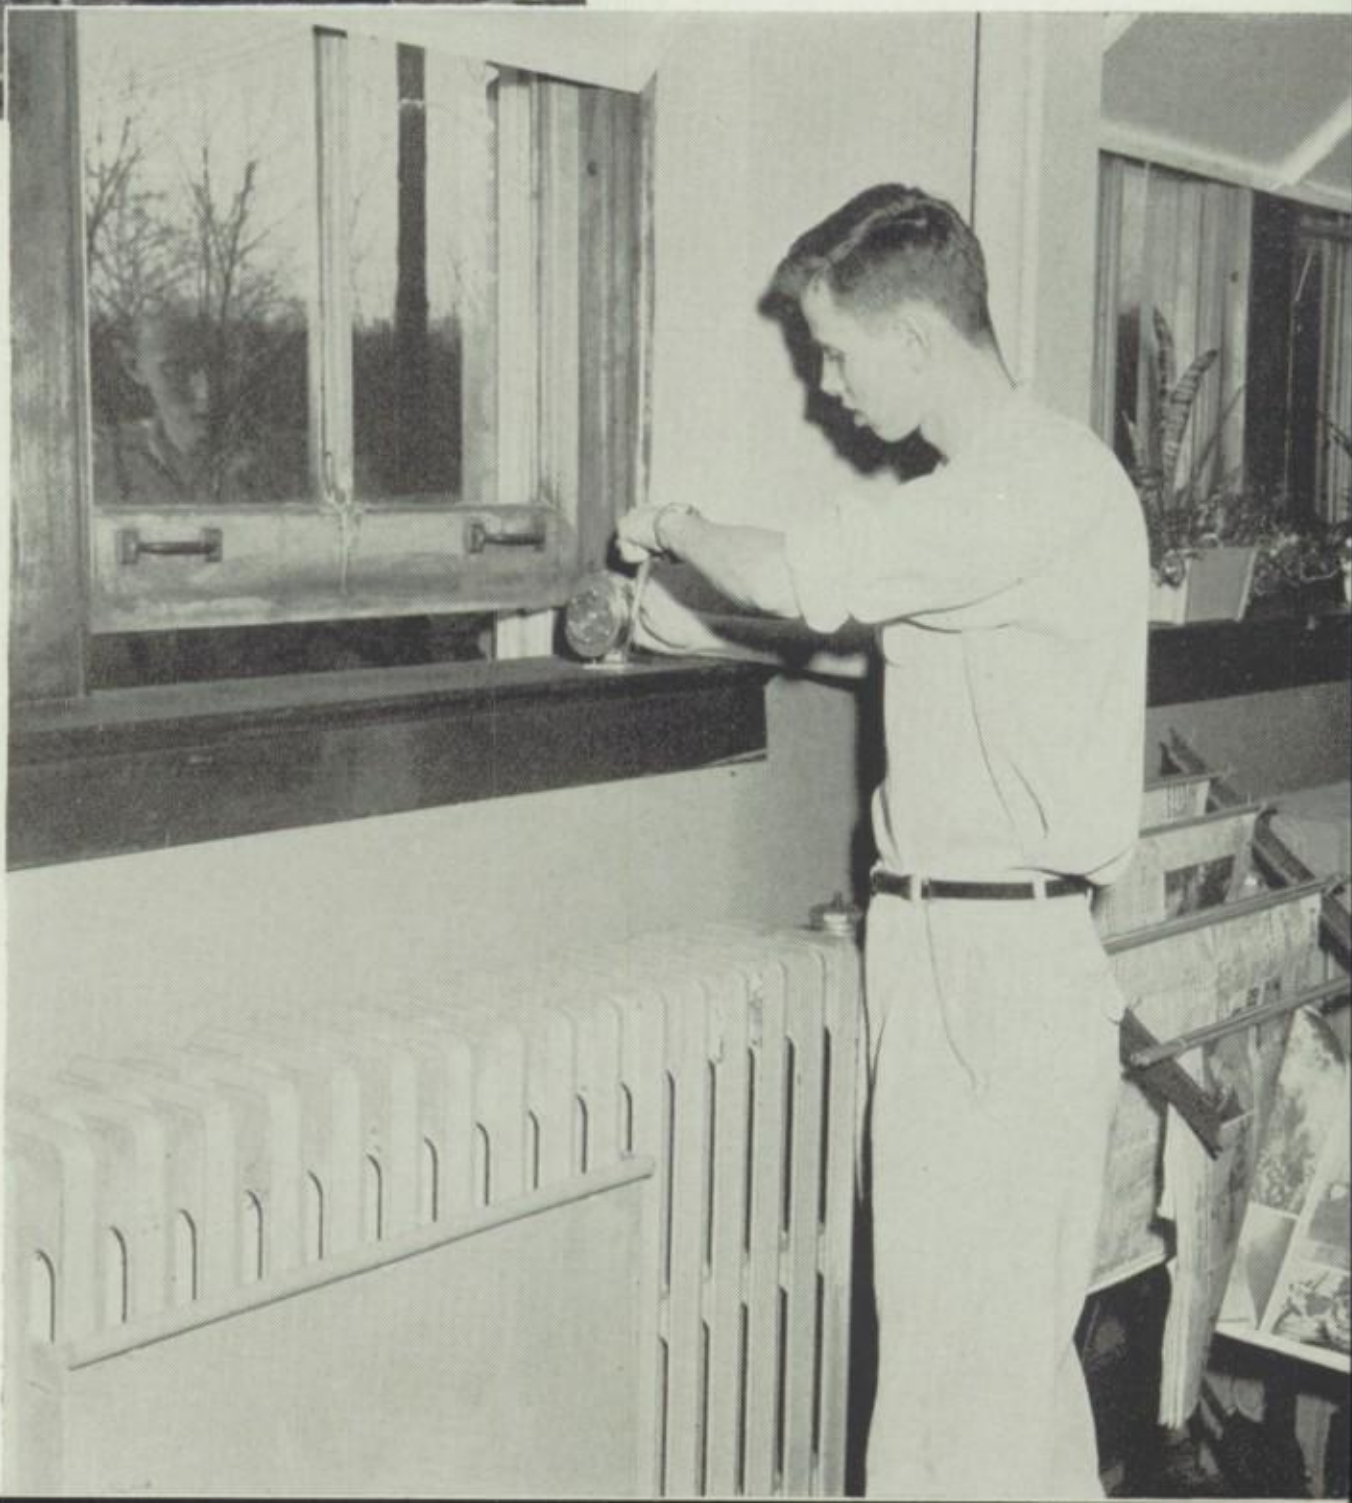

Our nosy little friend encountered many doors, through the keyholes of which he found us industriously at work. Classrooms, study halls, the library, and club-rooms are a few of the places where he saw us seeking knowledge, practicing democratic principles, and learning vocational skills, all of which help prepare us for the tasks that lie ahead after we've left these sacred halls.

What is this thing called studying?

*Training in vocational

*The Student Council supplied and

AT PLAY

Yes, he found us at play also, for all work and no play makes a dull day. The varied extracurricular activities at school, such as our organizations, teams, and recreation centers, provided an outlet for our excess energy. They also helped us to develop skills in sports and training in leadership, in addition to our having just plain fun.

Curtain call.

"Fore."

I pushed her twelve miles around that dance floor.

MAKING FRIENDS

This inquisitive little character also did some peeking outside the classrooms and after school and discovered us with our friends. We spent many enjoyable hours with our pals, our teachers, and our dates, and we shall always carry fond memories of these acquaintances for they helped round out the busy, happy years spent at Jeff.

Partying

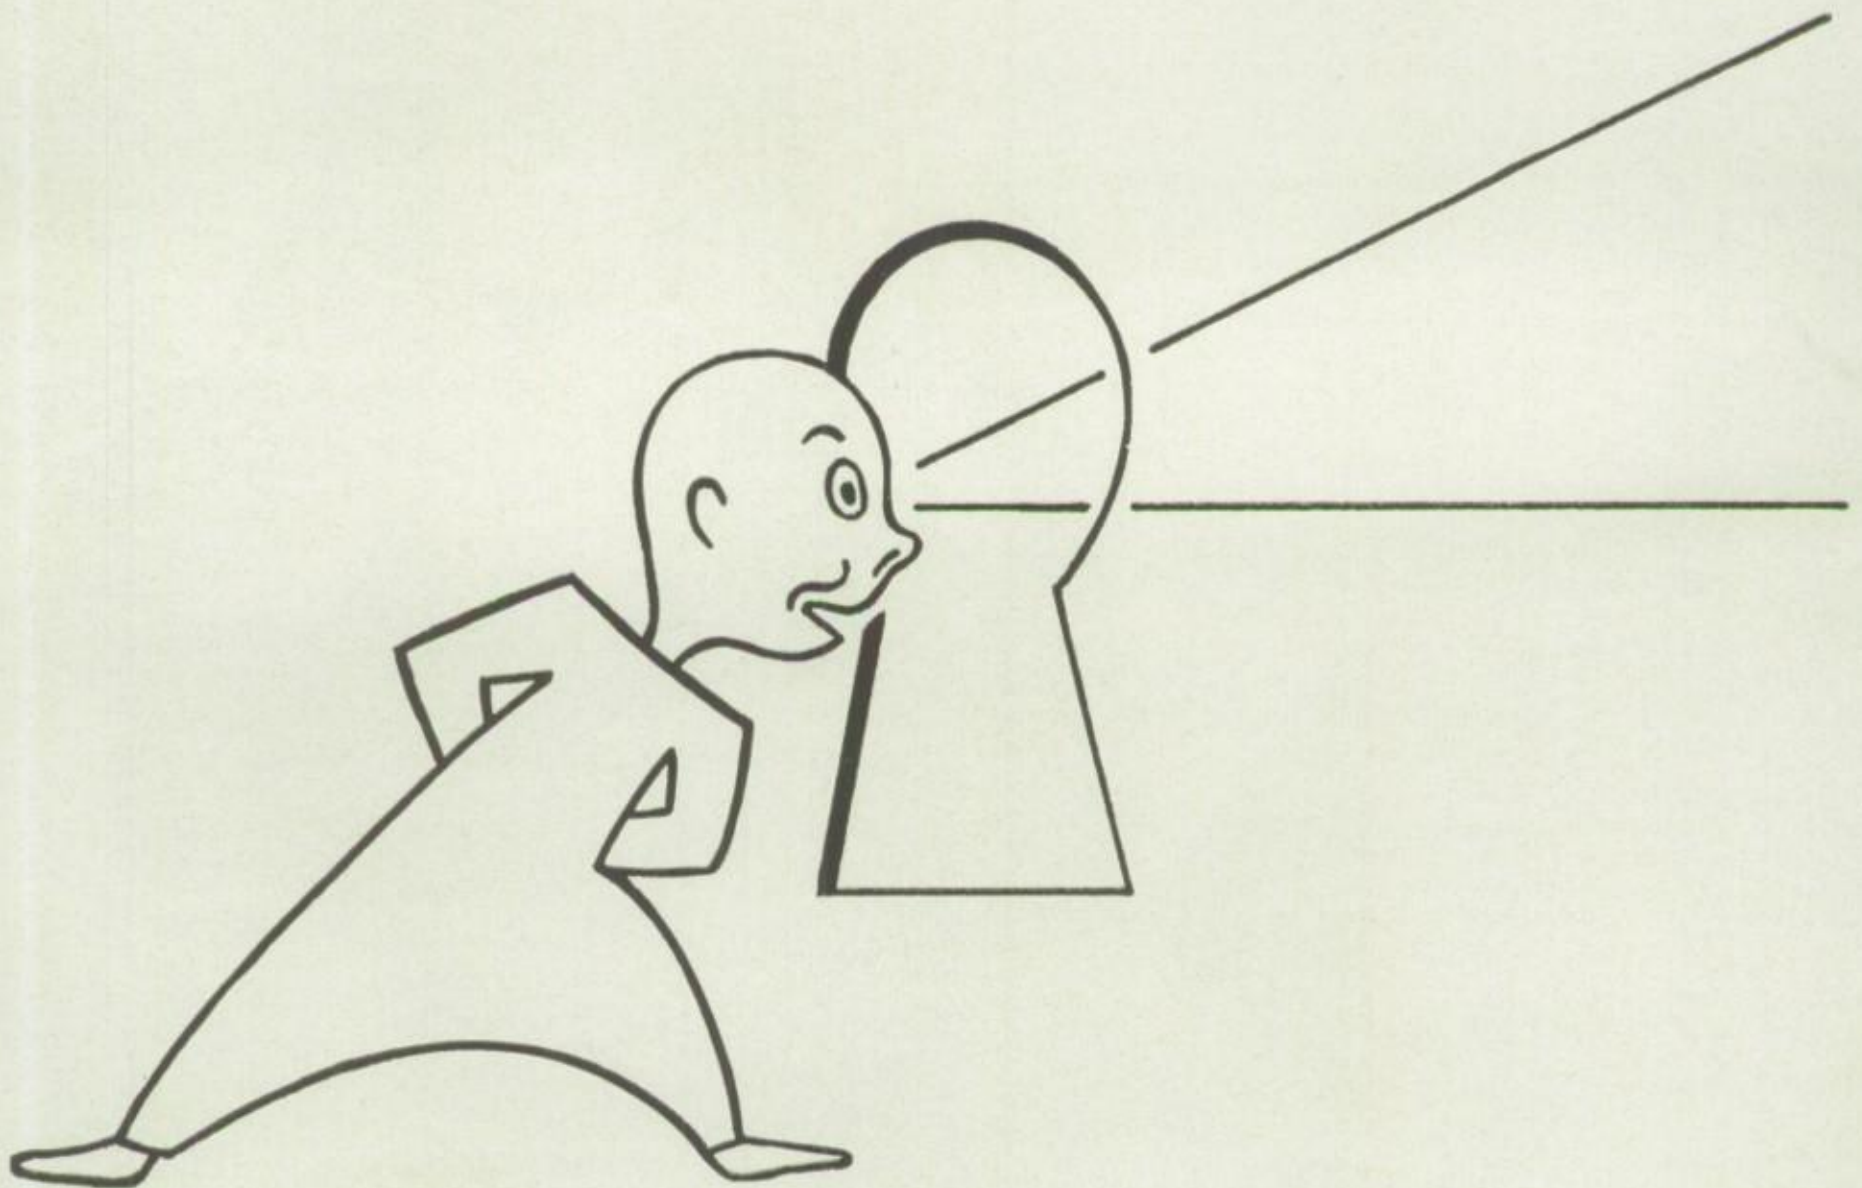

"Surprise!"

Henpecked?

FACULTY

Our nosy little friend then came upon Jeff's teachers and school administrators, without whom our education would not have been possible. Jeff's teaching staff is made up of experienced and well educated people who show great interest in the students and in their classes. Through the keyhole, you will now meet those who have given us a background for the future—our teachers.

STUDENTS

As our nosy little character came skipping down our hallowed halls, he discovered the purpose of a high school—the students. Looking at the expressions on their faces, he realized that this high school might prove to be different and more exciting than other high schools he had encountered along his inquisitive way. His supposition was right!

Senior Election

Every year, during October, a Senior Election is held at Jeff. Big campaigns are put on with speeches and posters playing a big part.

This year, the boys nominated Floyd Munson, Joe Heath, and Don Boveri to run on their ticket while the girls nominated Sally Owens, Rita Van Dame, and Sandy Smock to run for class officers. The girls' ticket won for the first time in the history of Jefferson High School. On the day after the election the boys wore skirts, causing a great deal of excitement and entertainment.

Many campaign promises were made by the girls. Were they fulfilled?

President, Sally Owens

Vice President, Rita Van Dame

Secretary-Treasurer, Sandy Smock

Junior Election

Unlike the outcome of the senior election this year, the junior boy candidates won our election. On the girls' ticket, Evaline Baldwin ran for the office of president, Norma Hall for vice president, and Mary Ann Hostetter for secretary-treasurer.

We carried on our election much in the same manner as the seniors, using voting machines and giving campaign speeches; however, ours was on a much smaller scale.

The Junior Class officers were Bill Niemantsverdriet, president; Dick Quealy, vice president; and Jack King, secretary-treasurer.

CLASSES

Now we find he peeked into the classrooms at Jeff. He saw many laboratory sessions, interesting and sometimes heated discussions, and visual aids which supplemented our text books. From these classrooms some of us may pass on into more classrooms while others may begin work in industry. But no matter which field, these classes have given us a firm foundation on which to build our careers.

Art Department

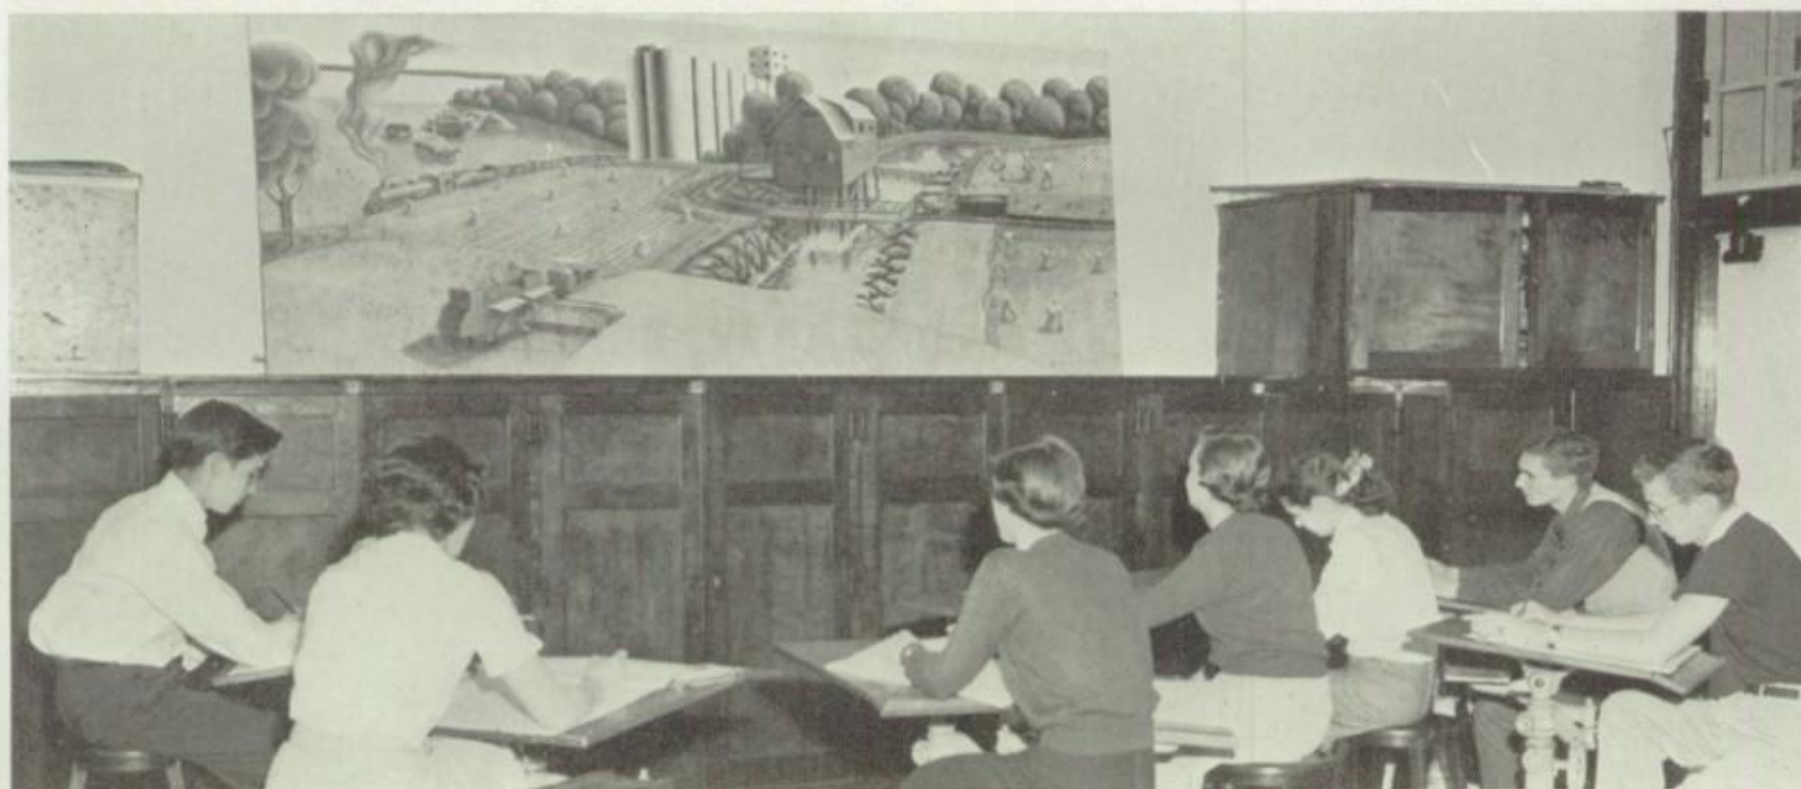

Artists of Jefferson High School were very busy working as in the past years. They made masks, oil paintings, door panels, and they decorated the window between the second and third floors, according to the seasons.

Some students got together in groups and made stained windows for other rooms.

The more advanced students made murals, such as the one in the library.

The Art Department is headed by Miss Georgianna Kienly.

Science Department

Jeff's Science Department is one of the most up-to-date in the state. The first science course is biology, a ninth grade course which is a study of plants and animals. Those taking a college preparatory course take physics and chemistry. Physics is a two-semester course that teaches about forces and machines.

As you look through the keyhole at a physics class, you may be startled by a small bolt of lightning. This is only our budding physicists at work on an experiment with electricity.

The last science course at Jeff is chemistry, which is taken by seniors. Chem deals with formulas, theories, and their applications.

Commercial

We at Jefferson High School have one of the largest and most progressive Commercial Departments in this area.

The commercial subjects taught are typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, transcription, business law, office practice, junior business, and salesmanship.

Typing is a good background subject for many reasons. It helps the student develop ability to think intelligently and quickly. It also provides vocational fitness for students wanting secretarial work.

Shorthand also proves to be helpful in both college and in secretarial work.

The teachers in the commercial department are Mr. James Ade, Mr. George Bradley, Mr. Ernest Cortner, Mr. Charles Martin, Miss Martha Nash, Miss Nina Baker, and Mr. Kenneth Andrews.

Home Economics Department

It is essential to know how to cook, and sewing is very beneficial. Our Home Economics Department helps us in learning these essentials.

Along with food and clothing, health ed. gives us knowledge in first aid and the training needed for the future.

Home Nursing provides us with much useful information in child care and various other necessities.

In the Senior High division Miss Gleela Ratcliff, Miss Helen Grishaw, Miss Irma Slayback, and Mrs. Louise Wright teach Home Ec., while Miss Lucile Campbell teaches in Junior High.

Industrial Arts Department

Jeff's Industrial Arts Department is rapidly developing into one of the most outstanding industrial courses in the state. Our Industrial Department is set up to give the student an understanding of the importance of the industry.

The curriculum of the Industrial Department includes general shop, woodworking, auto-mechanics, printing, beginning machine shop, mechanical drawing, and vocational machine shop.

Each student in this department has a chance to develop initiative and originality.

English Department

Jeff's English Department offers a variety of courses, providing the students with the knowledge of the fundamentals of English.

The grammar courses give to the student the fundamentals of the correct usage of speech.

Our literature classes give students entering college a background for a more detailed study of literature and enable students to more fully appreciate the richness of our own speech.

The composition course encourages students to do creative writing and also helps them interpret and express personal experiences to others through suitable form.

Journalism gives a first-hand knowledge of work on a school newspaper and improves the writing ability, business sense, and organizational qualities of one.

Speech gives to the student a presentation of knowledge and ideas. It also gives experience in group leadership and aids in building our personality.

Music Department

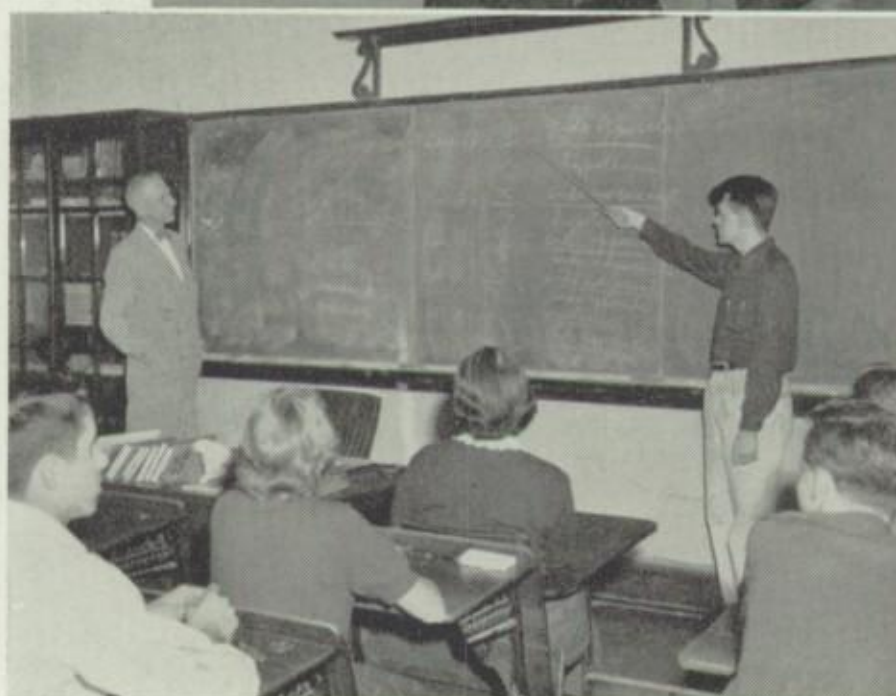

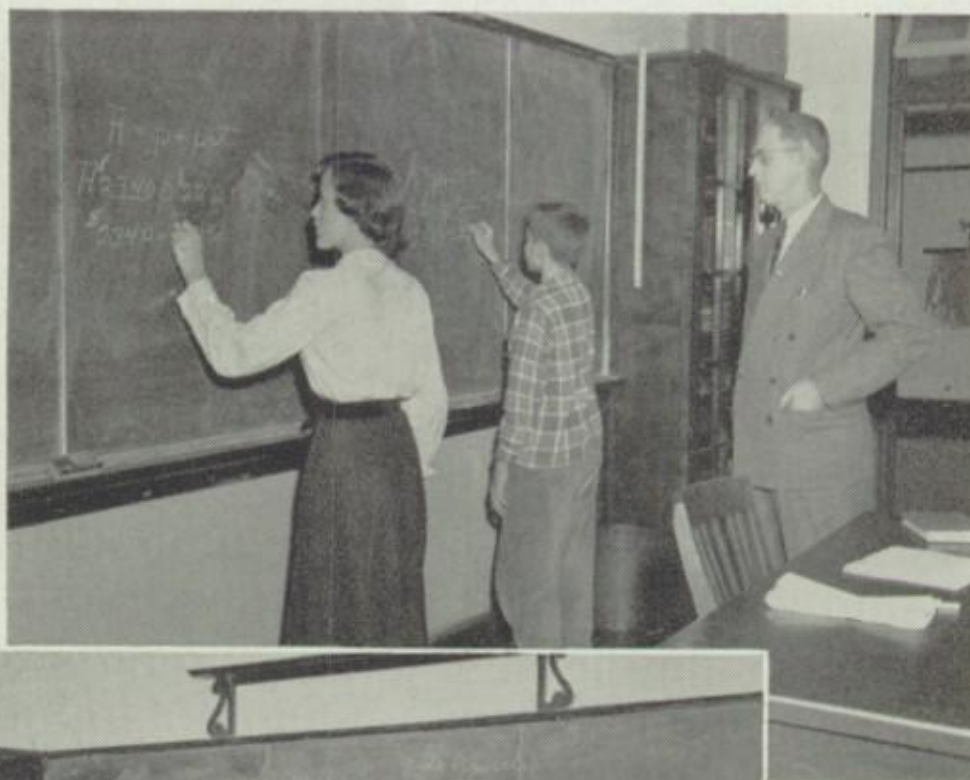

Instrumental music consists of a Senior and a Junior Orchestra. The Senior Band plays for many games and other social events. The bands and the Senior Orchestra are directed by Mr. Carter Brown, with Miss Nellie Lee Slayback directing the Junior Orchestra.

Vocal music is directed by Miss Camilla White and Miss Myrtle Robel-laz. A Cappella Choir, the top vocal organization, leads the vocal music department. The other organizations in this department are the Girls' Glee Club, Choralairs, and the Junior High Choruses.

Math Department

To take his place in our modern world, a well-educated person needs a solid mathematical background. Careers in science, engineering, and industry all require a good knowledge of math, and these fields promise to become even more important in the future. Taxes, financial and business problems, and just everyday living show us how often we need and use math. Even trying to stretch an allowance these days requires a good mathematician.

Here at Jeff, we get the math background we need — from commercial arithmetic to senior math, from algebra to trigonometry—in our practical and competent Mathematics Department.

Social Studies

At Jeff we have, what we consider, one of the best Social Studies Departments in the world.

The main purpose of the Social Studies Department is to give the students a better understanding of our government, world affairs, and the physical layout of the land.

Students are introduced into this line of study when they take orientation, a required 9th grade course. Its purpose is that of acquainting the students with the school.

riculum during our junior year when we are required to take U. S. history. This subject introduces us into the set-up of our government.

Our senior year is made up of sociology, economics and civics. These subjects cover a complete study of our government. Latin American history is offered for those interested in our southern neighbors.

World history and geography are two electives offered to sophomores, juniors, and seniors. World history takes up the history of the world as a whole. Geography gives the students a physical and agricultural outlook on the world.

Reviewing the vocabulary

Foreign Language Department

It is said that a student's education is not complete without a working knowledge of at least one foreign language. Jeff's small but adequate language department provides this knowledge.

The Spanish classes, under the skilled direction of Miss Wahneta Mullen, teach students the language, ways, and customs of our neighbors to the South. Latin provides a basis for our language and also tells us of ancient Roman civilizations. Miss Carolyn Griffin ably instructs students in Latin.

Physical Education Department

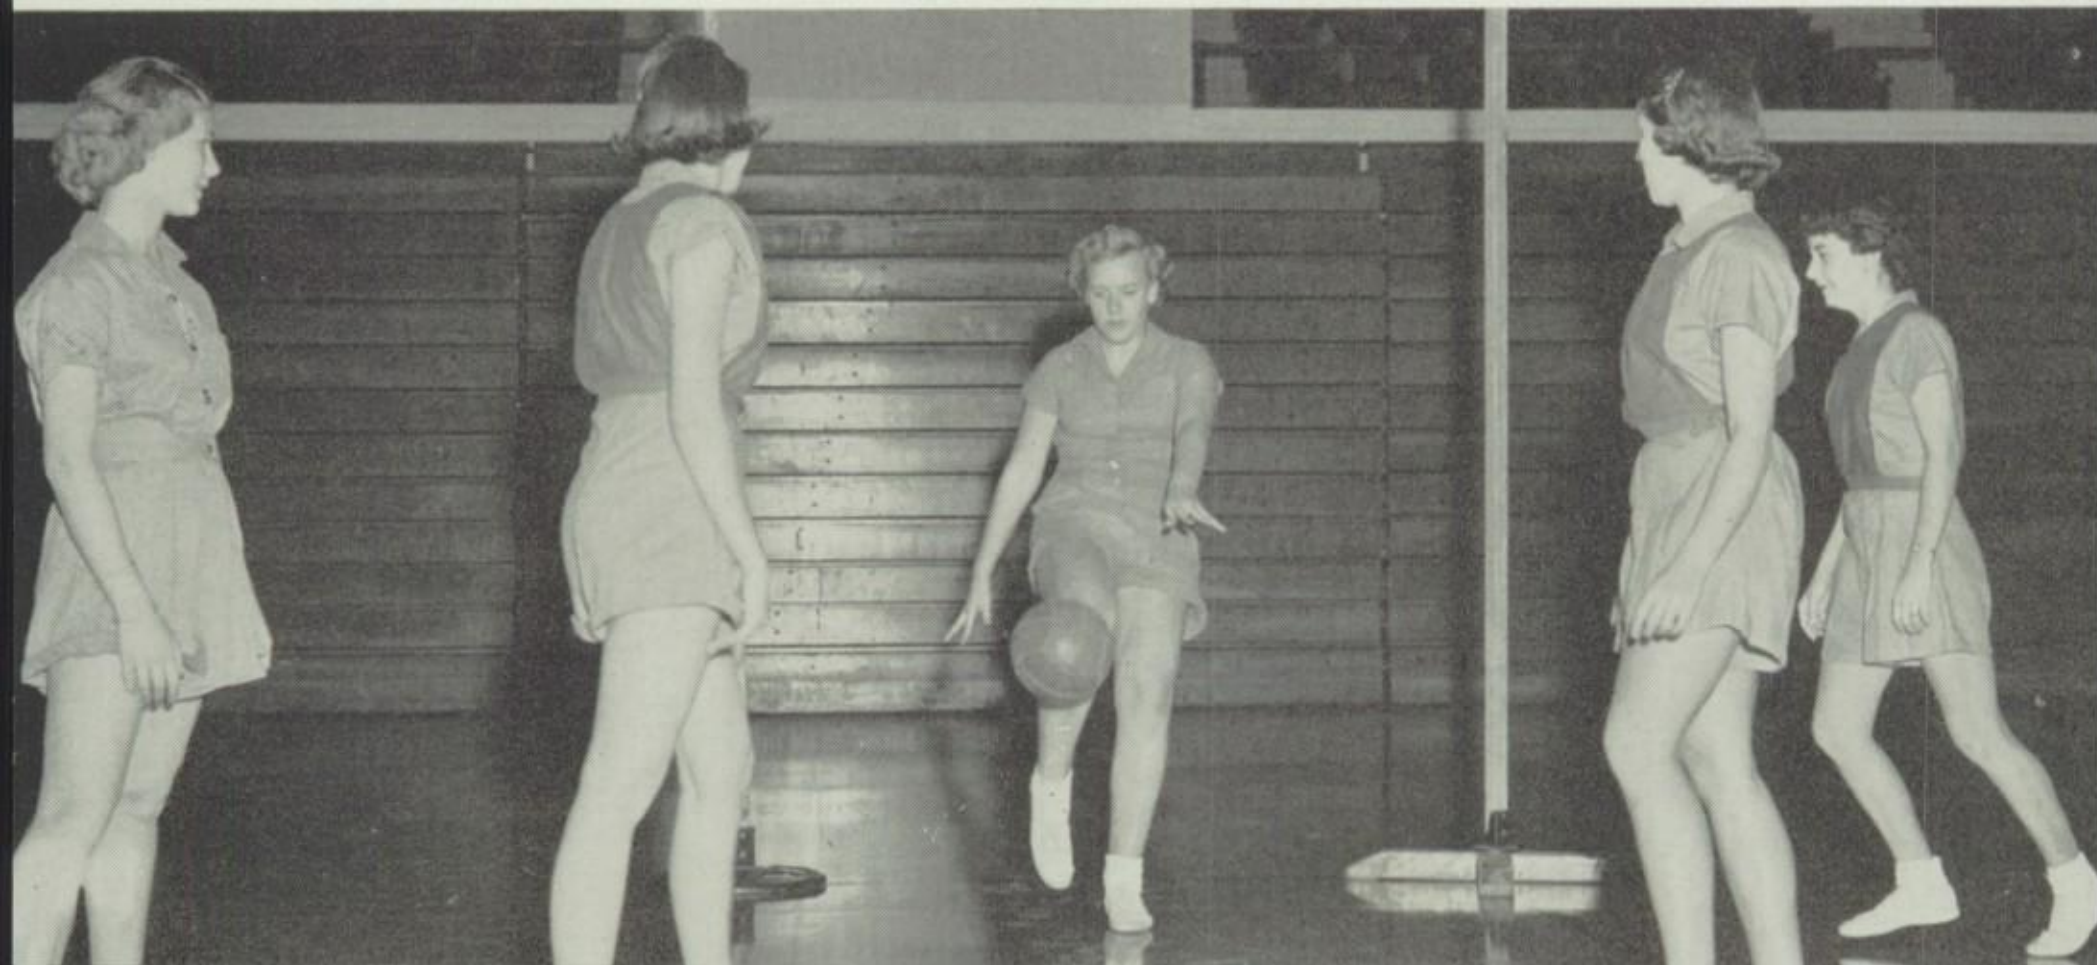

Our Physical Education Department is one of the best and most complete physical education programs in this community.

Besides teaching some of the basic sports, such as basketball, volley ball, and deck tennis, Mrs. Gertrude Krueger, Marion Crawley, and James Lyboults assist mixed classes in social dancing. Along with these activities, the fundamentals of square dancing are offered in the second year.

Mental health and sportsmanship are also taught in these courses.

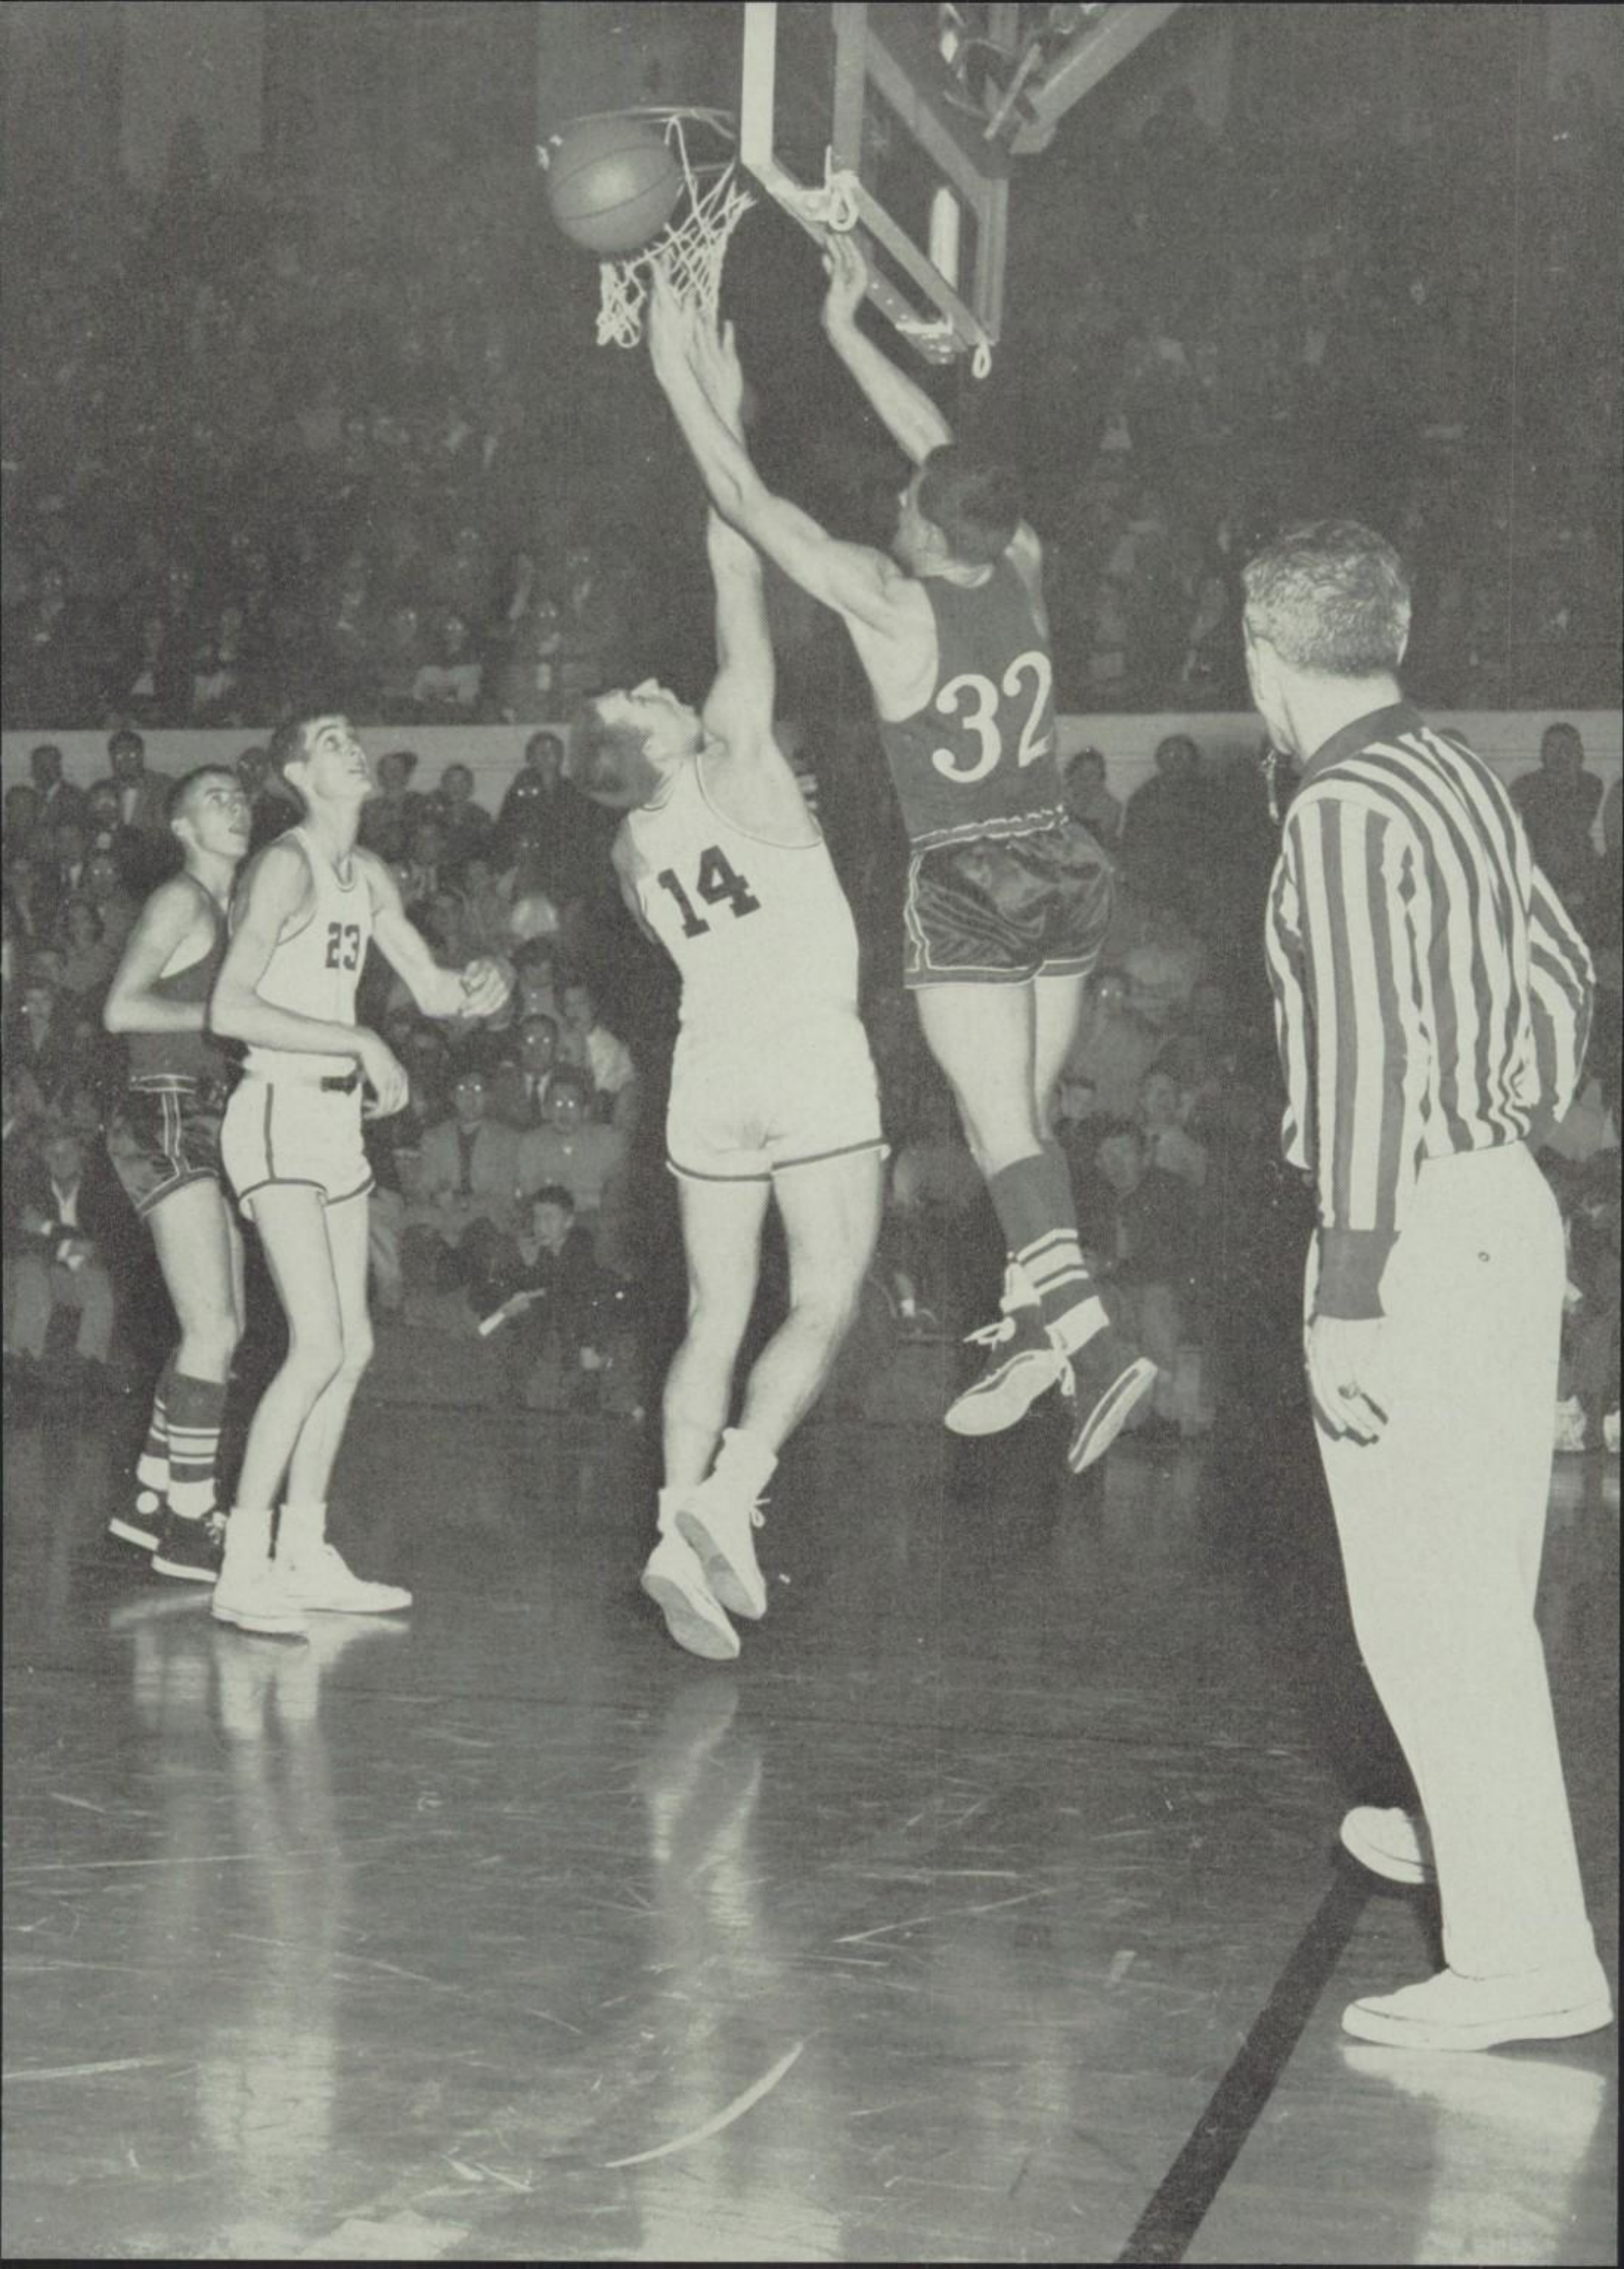

Don't let it get past her

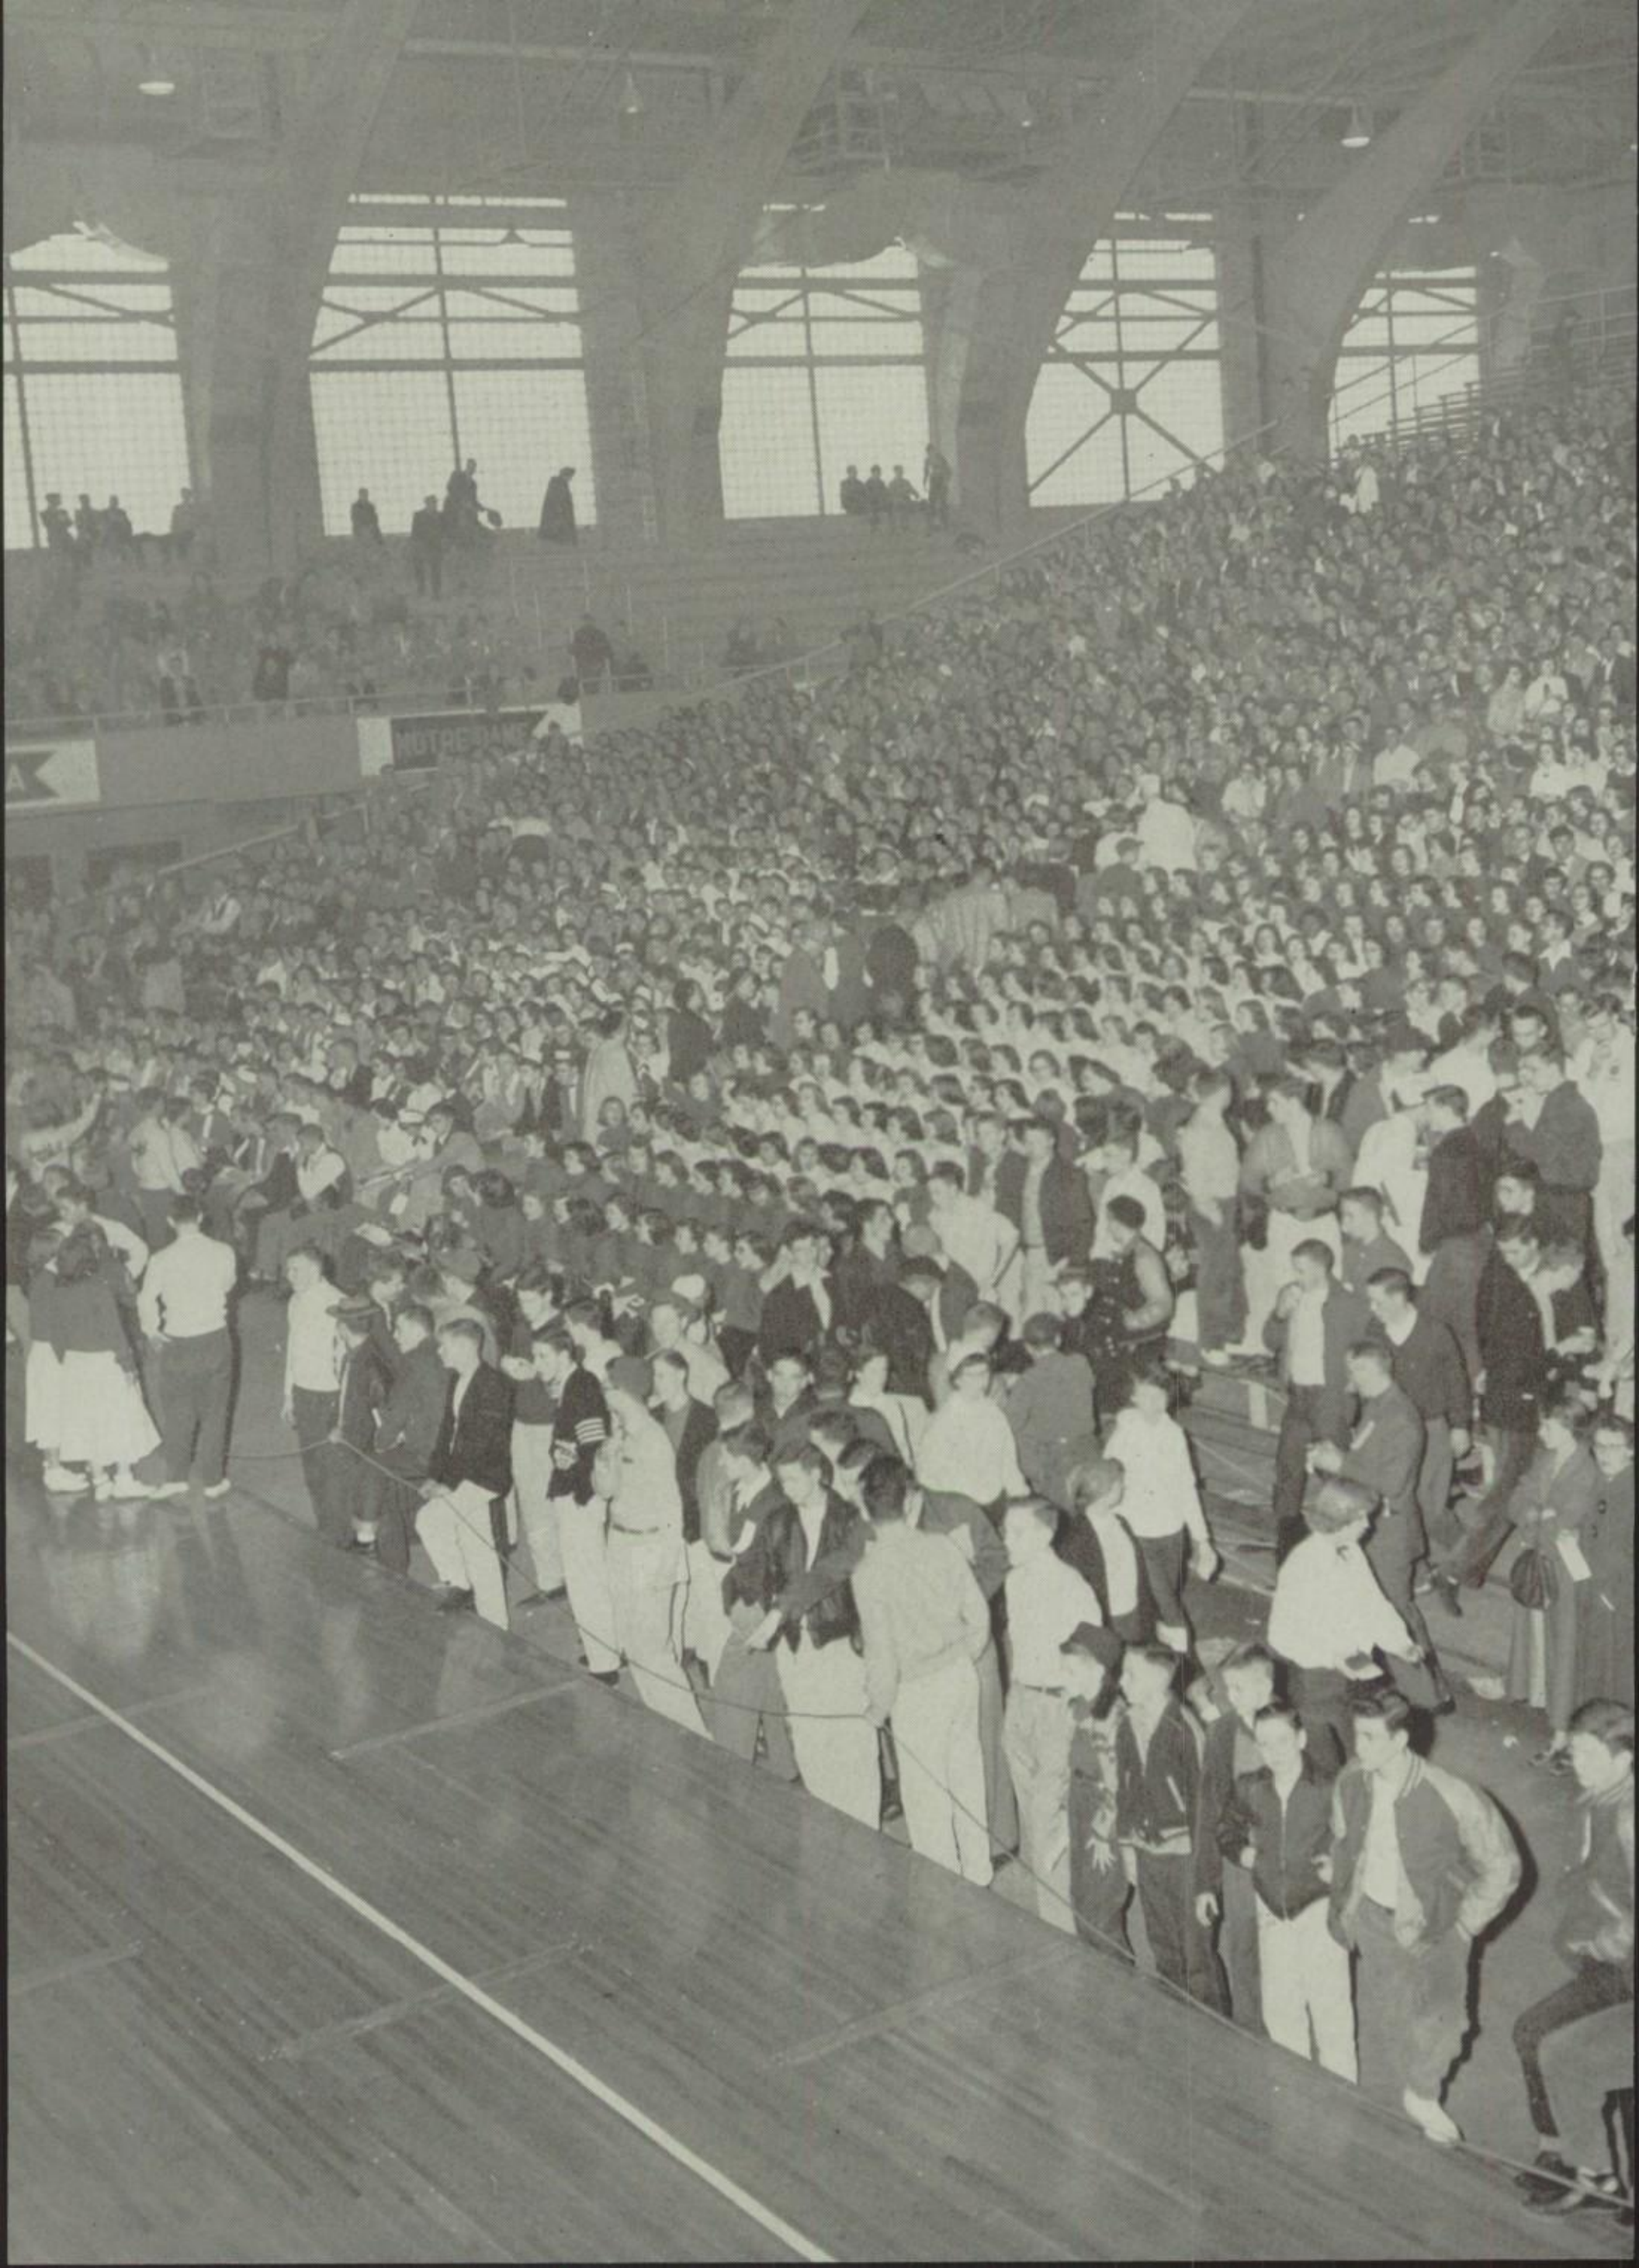

SPORTS

Of course our snoopy character could not miss one of the most active parts of our high school career—our sports! These were football, baseball, basketball, wrestling, track, swimming, tennis, cross country, and golf. He saw the boys who took part in these activities and who brought to Jeff many honors. These sports meant a good deal to the boys participating, as well as to the fans.

Coaching Staff

When you stop to think about it, a coach has to know more than how to play a game, or how to teach others to play, or even how to win games. Our athletic coaches have a very important part in our total school life. It is Jeff's good fortune that we have for our coaches men of high caliber who take their place in our school and community life, and who also have instilled in us the vital art of working and winning.

In our head coach, Marion Crawley, we have one of the recognized outstanding figures in high school athletics in Indiana.

Coaches Jerry Clark, Norman Willey, Sam Lybault, Marion Crawley, Orval Martin.

Doc Holladay

Doctor Lloyd J. Holladay is an indispensable part of our athletic department. He is a familiar figure who can always be seen on the Jeff bench. "Doc" spends a great deal of time caring for sprains, pulled muscles, and common colds which hinder the Bronchos. He is a Jeff fan "from 'way back".

Managers

Socks, towels, jerseys—such are the behind-the-scenes concern of the managers who perform the unglamorous but very necessary task of keeping the teams equipped and ready to play or practice.

You'll find, too, that the managers are the teams' most loyal backers, and they usually know all the statistics on the team they work for so faithfully.

Yell Leaders

Our cheer leaders did a great job of leading yells, to boost the morale of our team, and were able to unite the student body into a forceful yelling section. This year they developed several new yells which they were successful in putting across. Mary Jo Coling, Connie Scott, and Mike Woods completed their fourth year as varsity cheer leaders. They were assisted by Mary Ann Hostetter and Jim Lively, both Juniors.

Majorettes

One of the colorful attractions at the football and basketball games this year was the majorettes. They were Pat Runner, Nancy Verplank, Barbara Pitman, and Mary Ellen Woodley. Mary Lee Jeffries was Drum

Major and Sergeant of Majorettes. The girls went to the State and All-State Solo and Ensemble Contests at Indianapolis. Barbara Pitman, Nancy Verplank, and the Twirling Trio placed first in the All-State Contest.

Jeff's footballers bounced back this season from their troubles of last year to their customary winning ways. Coach Marion Crawley developed a squad that whipped five conference foes before bowing to Richmond in the NCC finale, and finished the season with a commendable record of 7 won, 2 lost, and a single tie.

The Bronchos started out in convincing style, overpowering Hammond 20-7 and Frankfort 25-0, before traveling to Kokomo for a high-scoring fracas which the Jeffmen dominated 38-27.

After dropping a home engagement to a very capable Cathedral eleven 20-6, the Bronchos rolled over New Castle, Muncie, and Logansport, to set themselves up as definite conference title contenders, with undefeated Richmond as the big remaining obstacle. The Bronchos sharpened up on Crawfordsville 34-0, and then journeyed to Richmond for that never-to-be-forgotten title encounter. Richmond, first-ranked team in the state, and undefeated in two seasons, flashed to two touchdowns in the opening quarter, but the Bronchos steadied and battled them on even terms the rest of the way, losing 32-20.

The traditional season wind-up with West Side was somewhat anticlimactic, coming only four days after the Richmond tussle, and the fired-up Red Devils traded touchdowns to account for Jeff's lone tie.

Don Boveri and Jim McClatchie were co-captains of this year's team. McClatchie was voted the outstanding player by his teammates.

B-Team

Jeff's B-team football squad, coached by John Lazar and Morris Etter, finished the season with a 4 won, 3 lost record, including wins over Logansport, Anderson, and Crawfordsville twice.

The B-team boys practiced regularly with the varsity, getting good experience and often providing the opposition for the varsity to run their plays.

The team had several stand-out performers from a team which was undefeated as freshmen, and they should provide strong varsity material next year.

For the first time in four years, the Jeff Bronchos did not take the field as a state finalist. The team was hurt by graduation losses from last year's semi-final champs, with only Joe Heath and Bob Kaser returning as regulars, and Coach Marion Crawley was forced to juggle the line-up during the early part of the season. Nearing tourney time, however, the team jelled into a consistently strong unit.

The Bronchos finished the season with a 3-6 North Central Conference record and a 10-10 over-all season record. In the annual Holiday Tournament, which visiting Evansville Central won, Jeff split two games, losing to Crispus Attucks and winning over Seymour.

After opening the season with three straight wins, the cagers ran into trouble with some of the state's toughest teams, losing to Kokomo, Evansville Central, and South Bend Central while getting by a good Anderson team. After the Holiday meet, the squad couldn't seem to click, losing four NCC games before dumping Logansport. During this time, however, the Bronchos decisively convinced West Side 53-32.

After a painful loss to Marion, the team perked up, and when the starting combination of Heath, Clark, Kaser, Becker, and Taylor solidified, the Bronchos became a power to reckon with. They threw a scare into Richmond by scrapping all the way and holding the powerful Red Devils to a 57-54 victory in the Conference wind-up.

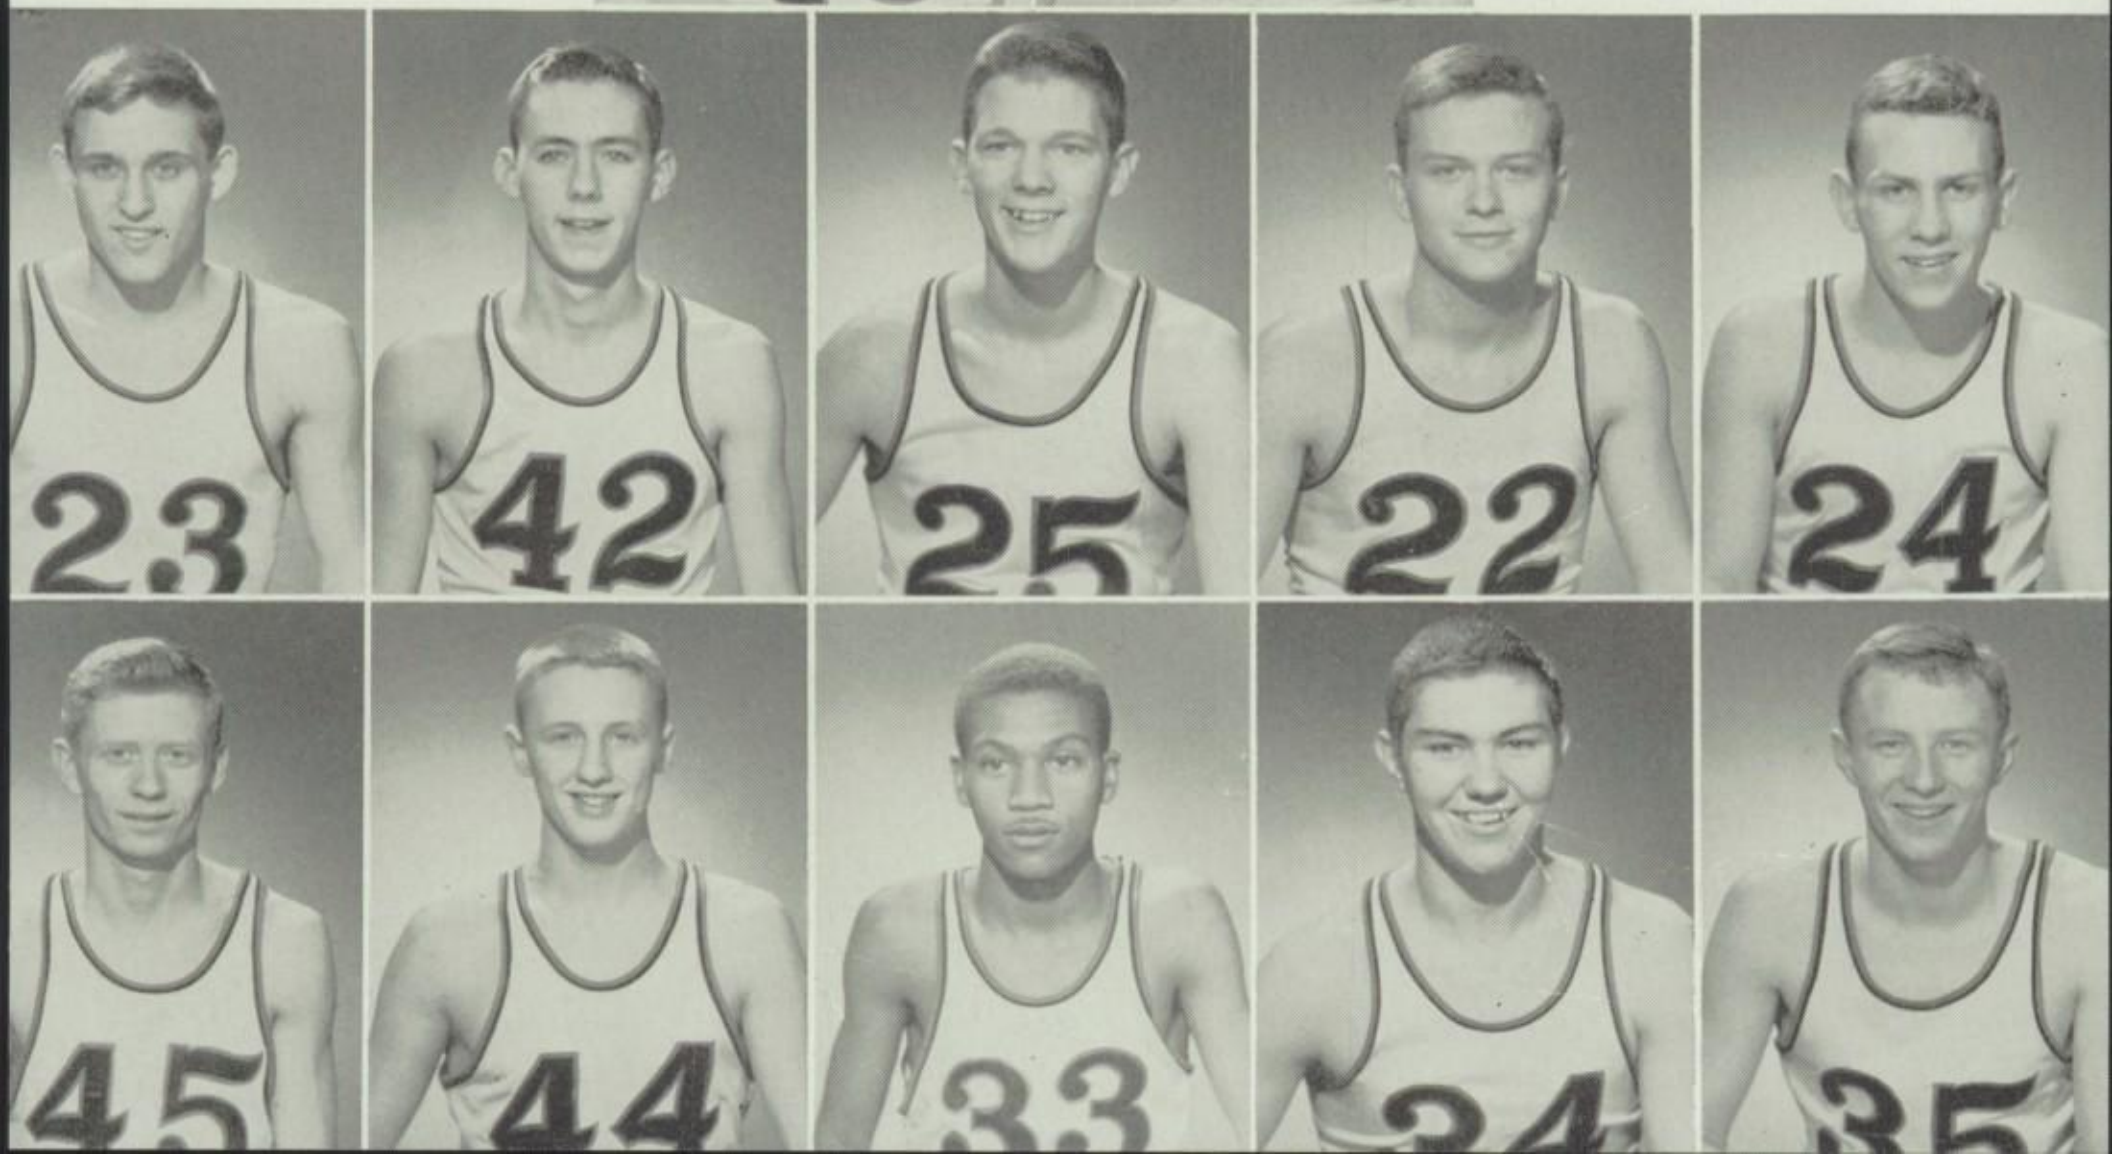

In the Sectional, the Bronchos won their tenth consecutive trip to the Regionals, the longest string of sectional victories in the state. The next week Jeff fans were treated to a hair-raising fracas as the Bronchos and Frankfort's Hot Dogs staged a double-overtime affair, with Frankfort finally breaking the Jeff tournament string with a 58-56 victory.

B-Team

This year's performance by the basketball B-teamers gave promise of great things to come when these boys reach the varsity. Coach Sam Lybault's sophomores fashioned a sparkling season record of 12 wins and 5 losses, even without several boys who were moved up to the varsity as the season progressed. This record was fashioned, too, against the same teams these boys will be facing in varsity games in a year or two, so prospects look very bright for Broncho basketball.

Coach Sam Lyboul's baseball team has done a man-sized job in our sports picture, winning the North Central Conference crown two years straight in '51 and '52. This year, with a full crew of returning letter-men supplying the power, the team went after its third straight conference crown.

With almost a full team returning to action, the Bronchos set out to duplicate their 17-4 season record of last year. The loss of Jim Sprankle and Kenny Kelly, two outstanding performers who signed pro contracts, was largely offset by a capable crew of moundsmen in Joe Heath, Ralph Maple, Mike Costello, and Jerry Neal, and experienced men in nearly every other position.

Performers that were counted on from last year's team, which had a 7-2 record in conference competition, included Don Boveri at first base, John Courter or Bill Smith at second, Kaser at third, Bill Stair catching, in addition to the pitching staff. With this material, the Bronchos promised to have another successful season on the diamond.

Hercules

A mighty leap!

Coach Orval Martin's squad had one of its best years. In 1952, it won all its dual meets and won the Central Indiana Relays which was held on our own field. The Jeffmen won the Attica Relays, also. The mile relay team, Denny Platenga, Bill Niemantsverdriet, Fritz Franz, and Chuck Wilkins, finished fourth in the state meet and established a new school record for this event.

Returning lettermen on this year's squad were: Walt LeBegue, Paul Melton, Dave Pitstick, Bill Niemantsverdriet, Bob Ubelhor, and Bob Jordon, Mgr.

The outlook for this season was good with Jeff opening with an indoor track meet in the Bloomington Relays, and running a full schedule of dual meets and relays and ending the season with the state meet.

Coach Norm Willey brought Jeff wrestling to its greatest peak ever this year, as the team had a season record of 11 wins against a single loss. The grapplers climaxed the brilliant season by winning the NCC championship for the first time in Jeff's history, and taking second in the state meet. Highlighting this performance, Jim Johnson was state champion in the 120-lb. class.

Vern Rohr and Jim Neubauer both won seconds, and Louie Pickerill won third and Larry Caldwell fourth in their weights in the state meet.

The Broncos' season record included wins over all the strongest teams in the state, including Southport, Indianapolis Tech, Bloomington, and South Bend Central. Johnson and Rohr went through the entire dual meet season undefeated.

At the conclusion of the season, John Neubauer was chosen honorary captain for the year.

Swimming, Jeff's youngest sport, came into its own this year, as Coach Dan Leslie's boys took a very respectable fifth place in the state meet held at Purdue. In season meets, the swimmers racked up a 1-4 record.

In the state meet, Maurie Woodworth won second place in the state in the fifty-yard freestyle, and Jim Sunkes took fourth in the breast-stroke. The medley relay team, composed of Woodworth and Co-captains Jim Sunkes and Bob House, finished second for the Bronchos.

Coach Orval Martin faced this cross-country season of meets without a letterman returning, but with a good crop of eager underclassmen, future prospects look encouraging. Throughout this season, the boys who carried most of the load were sophomores and juniors.

In dual meet competition, Mike Ricks, Roy McGlothlin, Perry Wilkins, and Mike Costello led the Jeff squad which finished the season with a record of one win and five lost.

Tennis

Your serve.

Someday 1953 may be looked back upon as the real beginning of tennis in Lafayette and in Jeff. With the completion of new courts in Columbian Park this year, our long-suffering tennis players will finally have a place to practice, and local interest in tennis will be given a big boost.

Coach Jerry Clark, who has been steadily building a squad that improves each year, can now look forward to really hopeful prospects and increased interest in tennis.

Golf

Don Childers does some intensive putting practice—but practice makes perfect.

Jeff's golf team had a good season in 1952, and all indications pointed to continued good showings on the links.

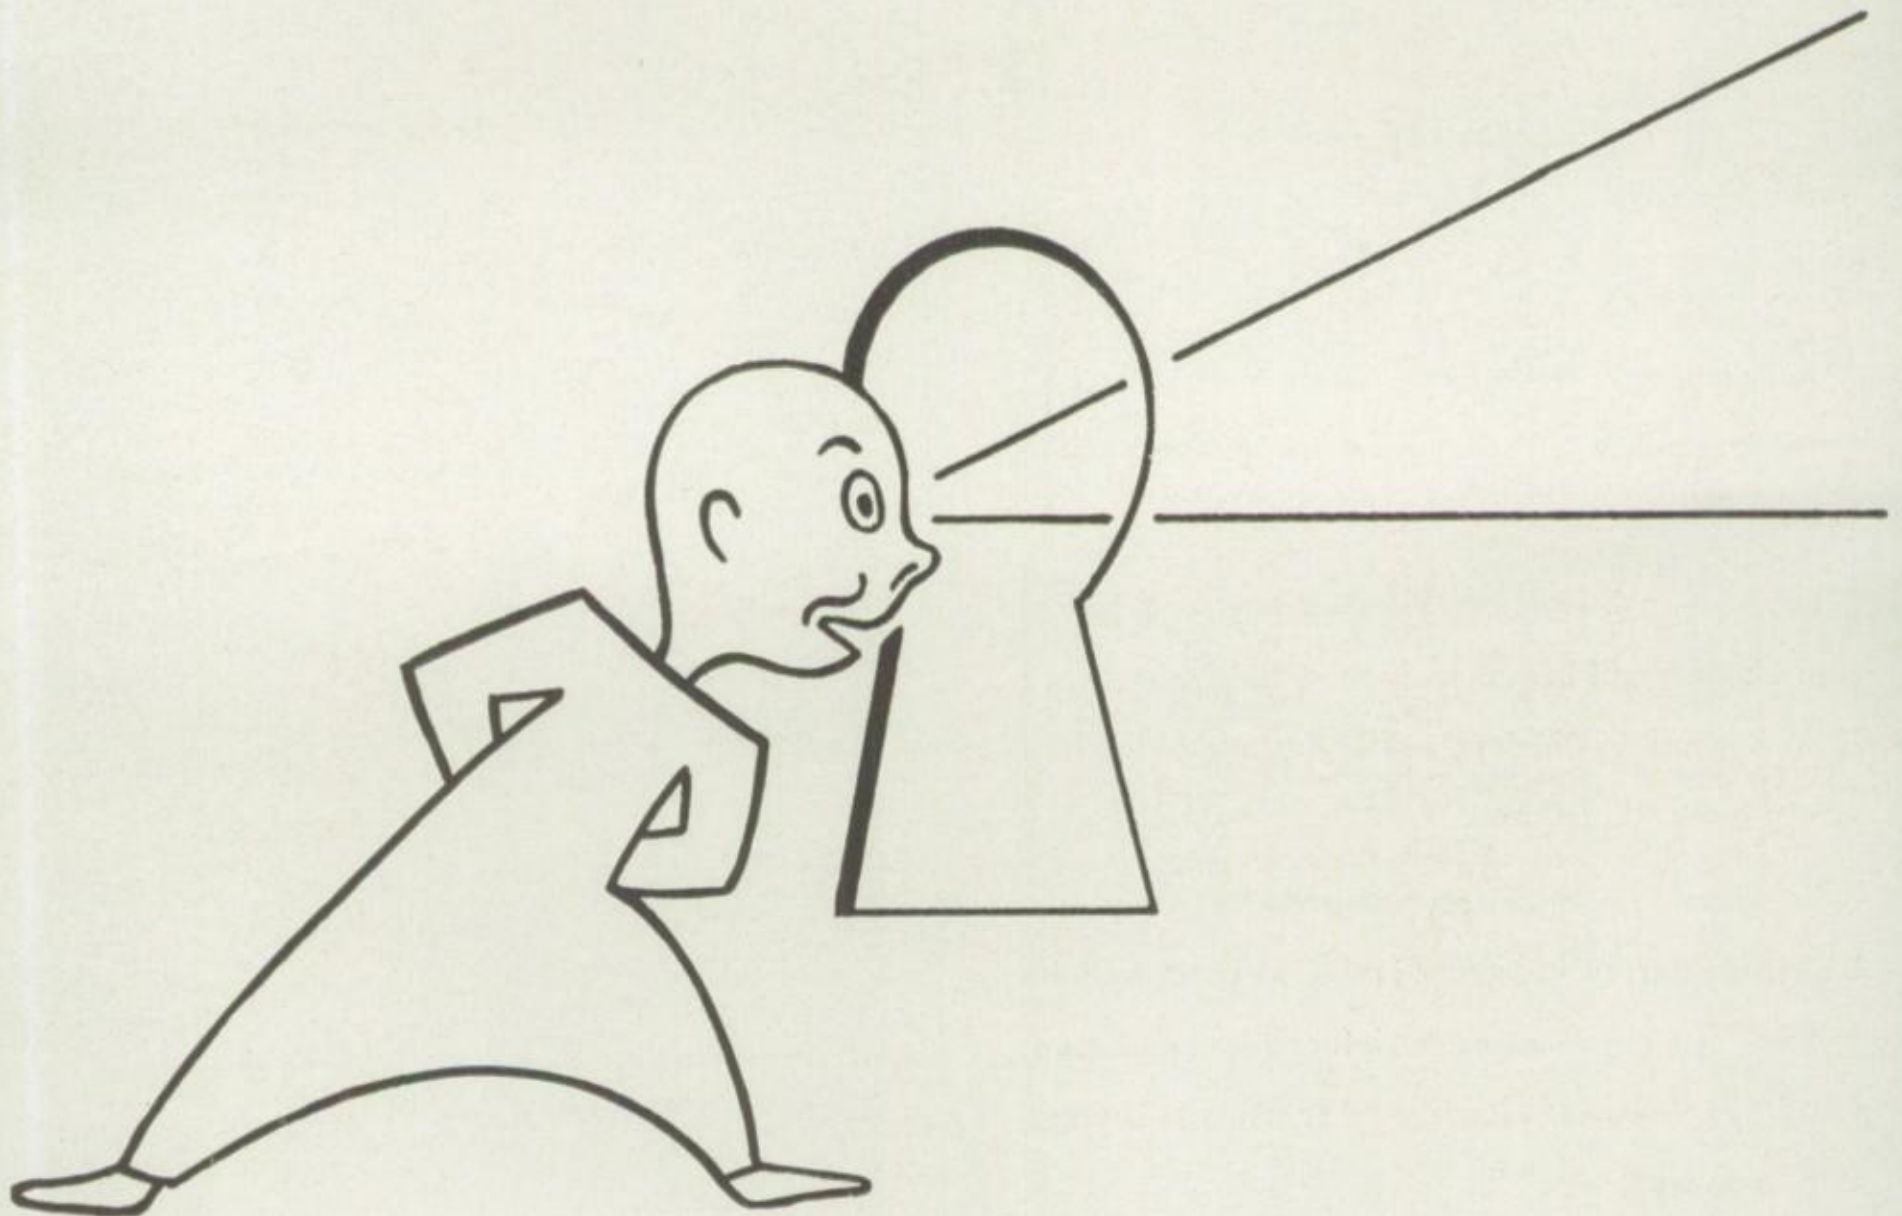

Seniors Joe Vaughn and Jack Haley, and juniors Don Childers and Dick Quealy provided the mainstay for the squad. In Childers, Jeff boasts one of the best young golfers in Indiana.

In addition to these, several underclass boys exhibited an increasing interest in the link sport, and the fortunes of the golf team, which is coached and sponsored by Marion Crawley, should continue to improve in future years.

ACTIVITIES

As our little man sauntered along his merry way, he did not fail to take in a few of our extra-curricular activities. Oh, shall we ever forget those senior campaigns to raise money, the highly successful Senior Play, or those "soft lights and sweet music" dances which were topped by the greatest—the Senior Prom? No indeed, they were a very exciting part of our year at Jeff.

Homecoming Dance

For the first time at Jeff, a Homecoming Dance was given. The purpose of the dance was to bring about a reunion of Jeff alumni.

Kate Donahue reigned as Homecoming Queen. She was crowned by Bob Masters. She received a crown of roses and a music box. Her court included Mary Lee Jeffries, Rita Van Dame, and Tenah Cooper, each of whom received bouquets. The crowning took place during the Holiday Tourneys and the dance was held afterward in the cafeteria.

The first school dance of the year, the Bronchoette Gallop, was a huge success. For the first time in Gallop history, the dance was held in Allen's Ballroom. Bill Taylor and his orchestra provided the music.

The big event of the evening was John Courter being crowned King of the Gallop. John was presented with a tie clasp by Jane Davis, president of the Sunshine Society, the sponsoring organization. The attendants were Bob Kaser, Vint Anderson, Jim McClatchie, Dick Carver, and Bob Scheetz.

The crowning of the Queen, Connie Scott, who received a locket, was the big event of the evening. The Queen and her attendants, Judy Sense, Shirley Duchene, and Jean Gay, were given bouquets of roses.

ORGANIZATIONS

Sometime or another, and this seemed to be it, our curious friend realized the importance of organizations to a Jeff student. He found their number to be many and their purposes to be worthwhile. These groups gave service to the school, improved and recognized talents, developed character, and provided social enjoyment to all those participating.

"Bigger and Better" seemed to be the motto of this year's Block Section. The one hundred and eighty-two girls who participated in it were under the direction of captain, Carolyn Anderson and co-captain, Effie Baldwin, who did a remarkable job. The Block Section was made up of girls wearing white sweaters bordered by girls wearing red sweaters. The J-Club offered their services, making a black J which was very effective. The new sponsor was Miss Carolyn Griffin.

Audio Visual

Jeff's Audio-Visual Club is one of very few school organizations that has as their sole purpose service to the school. The hard-working audio-visual crew make possible many of the features of modern education that "bring the world to the classroom" and make our studies much more varied and interesting.

From their headquarters in the library, the members operate movies in classes, have charge of films, and operate the public address system at convos and games.

This year's officers for the club, which is under the sponsorship and direction of Mr. Leonard Smith, school librarian, are Al Long, president; Norbert Fisher, vice president; John Linville, secretary-treasurer.

Library Assistants

Those people who help Mr. Leonard Smith keep the library running smoothly are the library assistants.

Their duties include shelving books, checking books in and out, processing books for use in the book rental system, taking library passes to students, and running errands for Mr. Smith. They also help keep law and order in the library. Library assistants must be conscientious and trustworthy students.

This book will someday bring back memories of the glorious times you had at Jefferson. A yearbook is made up of pictures and stories which have all been a part of your life. It is the duty of the Jeff Nautilus Staff to give you a book which will probably do this for you.

The biggest assignment fell to Georgelma DeVault, our superb editor. Joe Bumbleburg, assistant editor, did a good job of organizing the advertising section.

The copy was written by Sandy Masters and Sally Owens, co-literary editors. Also on the staff was Floyd Munson, who wrote the captions.

Joyce Bogardus, our business manager, and Hugh Robertson, her assistant, handled the financial affairs.

The sports section was organized by Bob DeLong, sports editor, and Ronnie Gordon, assistant.

Kay Young, our art editor, did all the drawings.

The typing was done by Pat Runner, our secretary.

Mr. James Ade, our competent advisor, supervised the staff.

JUNIOR HIGH

Our little friend then stumbled upon our Junior High. He soon found out that their classes, sports, activities, and organizations were just as exciting and wonderful as the ones he had previously experienced—only in miniature. These students, while participating in their own events, were at the same time getting a glimpse of those all important, ever glorious, high school years.

Junior Band

Consisting of Washington, Durgan and Jefferson Junior High School students, the Junior Band's primary purpose is to train young musicians for the High School Band. The Junior Band consists of about ninety members and is directed by Carter Brown. The main events of the Junior Band were the contest held on April 18 and the Spring Concert.

Junior Hi-Y

One of the outstanding organizations in our Junior High Department is the Junior Hi-Y. The members of this club are ninth grade boys. Their activities include sending delegates to the State Teachers Conference, serving as pages at the Student Legislature, and an annual fall picnic. This year's officers were Mike Snyder, president; Leon Dickson, secretary; Dick Wilson, treasurer; and John McCloud, chaplain. The club sponsor is Mr. Vincent Rogers.

Jefferson High School's Junior Orchestra is directed by Miss Nellie Lee Slayback. The orchestra is composed of fifty-three eighth graders from Jeff, Washington, and Durgan. The group practices each Tuesday in the Jeff band room. They entered the Indiana School Band and Orchestra Contest. They also provided entertainment at Washington P.T.A. meetings. Allen Nicewander was the concertmaster and Eileen Skadberg the librarian.

Jeff Y-Teens

Sponsored by Miss Emily Jane Aldridge and Miss Wahneta Mullen, the Jeff Y-Teens take part in many activities. They have parties, dances, and participate in such sports as tennis, swimming, and hiking. They also made baskets at Thanksgiving and visited old people's homes. For entertainment, they take tours and have foreign speakers.

ADVERTISING

Up to now, our little friend had been looking at Jeff, its teachers, its students, and its activities. Now he neared the end, but before passing on, he saw another important phase—advertisers. The Lafayette people and their business establishments listed in this section were the ones who played an important role in providing much of the financial aid that made this book possible.

Acknowledgments

The 1953 Nautilus staff would like to extend its thanks and appreciation to the many people who have helped to make this year's book a success.

We would like to thank Paul Biehl for his willingness to take pictures and aid us at every call; Mrs. Gettings and Mrs. Zahn for so patiently showing us our mistakes in literary work; Miss Bright and the other secretaries for helping us to take care of our book work and subscription sales; Jack Swezey of Phillips for doing such a grand job on pictures; the Lafayette Engraving Co. for its fine work on the engravings; and the Lafayette Printing Co. for doing such an excellent job of printing the book.

We also wish to express our gratitude to the principals for their ceaseless help and the teachers for their cooperation. The staff deeply appreciates everyone's kind assistance. Thank you.
